HEART TO HEART

Dear Children,

December is the time reflecting the past and envisioning the future. The month wrapped in the Christmas spirit witnessed the 44th Annual day of the Academy . The yearly extravaganza is no less than an open 'classroom' for the participants and others involved in it, imparting holistic education and experiential learning and creating opportunities for honing their talents and potential .Behind the spectacular and scintillating show presented , there were the lessons on life skills learnt - be it time management, organization, stagecraft, showcasing artistic and linguistic prowess or practicing with patience and perseverance, and eventually carving a real- life experience.

At the same time , It was the celebration of our achievements, self-expression, imagination, creative pursuits and collaborative spirits . I am sure all of you would have enjoyed being part of it. The exuberant participation of DMA-ites at the Meerut Mahotasava was equally enriching, pulsating and productive. I congratulate all the participants for putting in the best of their endeavors to present the splendid shows!. The twelfth and last month of the year is also the time to do some self-introspection on what we have accomplished this year , what are the ways we have grown or what we have struggled through or how we can integrate the power of the lesson learnt and experience gained with future endeavors to be the better version of ourselves. At the same time , we appreciate the love and support of our friends and family with gratitude . Embracing gratitude is incredibly fulfilling, providing lessons that can enhance our daily lives. It is the very essence of all other virtues that has the power to create an environment that promises joy and satisfaction enabling us to value the experiences of life. It helps us to savor everyday moments , find silver linings amidst the storm and joy in the ordinary and cherish the connections we share with others , opening our hearts, expanding our horizons, and motivating us to live with greater awareness and appreciation. Let gratitude be your guiding light, illuminating the path to a more fulfilling, connected, and transformative life. It is important to understand the magnificence of gratefulness lies not only in grand gestures but also in everyday moments. Each act of gratitude, no matter how insignificant it looks , enriches the tapestry of our lives. So, let us promise to foster a culture of kindness, empathy, and connection and nurture appreciativeness within ourselves and spread its ripples all around to make the world a better place to live in. With love and encouragement,
